

A circular inset photograph showing a view through a sliding door made of solid iroko wood. The door is partially open, revealing a bathroom interior. In the background, there is a stone wall, a dark countertop, and a white sink. A wooden bench is visible in the foreground of the bathroom. The floor is covered in light-colored tiles. The overall scene is framed by a circular border.

[Disclaimer: The design of this project is copyright and remains the property of Silvio Rech & Lesley Carstens].